Boston Society of Architects announces the ArchitectureBoston Expo (ABX)

From the long-time co-producer of Build Boston and Residential Design and Construction

Boston, MA (December 13, 2011) – The Boston Society of Architects (BSA) officially announced the formation of a new tradeshow and conference today. This new show - ArchitectureBoston Expo (ABX) - will be the most comprehensive building industry event in New England.

By expanding the brand of its flagship publication, ArchitectureBoston, the BSA looks to better serve the profession under one unified name. The BSA is also set to open a new 16,000 sf office and gallery space in the new Atlantic Wharf complex early next year.

ABX will be held November 14-16, 2012 at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center. It will be anchored by a tradeshow on the exhibit hall floor and will feature a comprehensive conference program offering continuing education credits for architects and other building industry professionals.
